Tziporah Kingsbury, is a world renowned transformational leader, intimacy and mindful relationship educator, featured on ABC's The Bachelor.

For the past two decades, she has guided people from all social backgrounds to achieve a deeper intimate connection through cultivating Emotional Intelligence so they are confident to create healthy relationships in a sometimes fast paced world.

In her work as an intimacy, breath work and communication leader, creator of the Soulful Relating 7-Step system, she is called upon to share her unique technique for soul inspired individuals and organizations, innovating the field of intimate exploration and personal expression. Author of two books, "Intimate Insights" and "Revolutionizing Intimacy: Navigating Connection in a Disconnected World". Tziporah's role as a mentor, speaker, educator and seminar leader is to create a safe environment for the people, guided with curiosity and compassion.

"Through our couples and individual sessions with Tziporah, my husband and I have been slowly peeling back the layers that have kept us from showing up with full transparency and authenticity. We are now regularly having date nights and are connecting with each other at a whole new amazing level. This deep inner work has also empowered me as an entrepreneur to show up fiercely and authentically with my clients, stand strong in my feminine leadership, and attract new opportunities, clients and money from a place of clarity and ease. A deep bow of gratitude to you, Tziporah, for helping me transform these key areas of my life."
